HISTORY

OF

THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

PSALMS CXV.: 12.

“THE LORD HATH BEEN MINDFUL OF US.”

THE First Congregational Church in Concord was organized November 18, 1730. The proprietors of the town, at a meeting in Andover, Mass., February 8, 1726, voted to build a block-house, which should serve the double purpose of a fort and a meeting-house. Early in 1727, the first family moved into the town, and Rev. Bezaleel Toppan was employed to preach one year from the 15th of May. Mr. Toppan and Rev. Enoch Coffin, both proprietors of the town, were employed by the settlers to preach till October 14, 1730, when it was resolved to establish a permanent ministry. Rev. Timothy Walker was at once called to be the minister of the town.

A Council met November 18, 1730, and organized, “in this remote part of the wilderness,” a church of eight members, and Rev. Timothy Walker was installed its pastor. The Sermon, by Rev. John Barnard, of Andover, Mass., was from Prov. 9: 1-3. The Charge to the Pastor was by Rev. Samuel Phillips, of Andover, and the Right-hand of Fellowship by Rev. John Brown, of Haverhill, Mass. The church was orthodox and stable in its faith, and during the long ministry of Mr. Walker—fifty-two years—it was united and prosperous. Strong in the confidence and affection of the people, Mr. Walker always and actively opposed any thing which threatened division in the church or the town.

It is impossible to measure accurately the growth of the church during this period, owing to incompleteness of the records. No regular record is found after 1736, and the names of those who owned the covenant are gathered only in part, and these from entries made in his diary. While the names of only ninety-five who united with the church are known, many more than this must have become members, for, at the installation of his successor, though but few of those whose names were recorded were alive, there were one hundred and twenty members. The growth of the church must, therefore, have been rapid for those days, and its prosperity, stability and influence in the town and throughout the State are proof of a faithful ministry.

Rev. Timothy Walker, A. M., was a native of Woburn, Mass., and a graduate of Harvard College, in the class of 1725. His salary, at settlement, was £100, to increase forty shillings per annum till it reached £120; also use of parsonage. He died suddenly, on Sabbath morning, September 1, 1782, aged 77 years, deeply mourned by the people he had so faithfully served and led, and between whom and himself the mutual attachment had remained strong to the last.

The deep impress of this early ministry has never been effaced, and the influence of Mr. Walker, to a large degree, decided the moral tone and habits of the town. For more than half a century he directed the thought, and was the religious teacher of the early settlers; and his clear convictions, his bold utterances, and his firm adherence to practical principles, made him a wise leader. He served the town as well as the church. His wise counsel and prompt and judicious action in relation to every matter of public interest, were of great benefit to the people, and gave him a wide and acknowledged influence. Three times he visited England, as agent for the town, to confirm its endangered rights, and was enabled by his personal influence and wisdom to make secure forever the claims and privileges of the settlers. His influence will be acknowledged, and his name remembered with gratitude by future generations.

Nearly seven years now passed without a stated ministry. In one case a call to settle was extended, but declined. September 1, 1788, Rev. Israel Evans was called by both the church and the town to settle as minister, and was installed pastor July 1, 1789. Installation sermon by Rev. Joseph Eckley, of Boston, Mass. His ministry continued eight years. No records of the church during this period can be found, and probably but few were added, as the number of members at his dismission was one hundred and twenty-four. Mr. Evans was a native of Pennsylvania, and a graduate of Princeton College, N. J., in 1772. He was ordained chaplain in the United States army, at Philadelphia, in 1776, and from 1777, till the close of the war, was chaplain in a New Hampshire brigade. He resigned his pastorate July 1, 1797, but resided in town till his death, at the age of 60 years, March 9, 1807.

The church, without delay, chose as successor to Mr. Evans, Rev. Asa McFarland, and the town concurring in the choice, he was installed March 7, 1798. The sermon was preached by Rev. John Smith, of Dartmouth College. The growth of the church under the ministry of Dr. McFarland was rapid and steady. Seasons of quiet, and also of deep religious interest, blessed it, and 429 were added to the membership, and 734 adults and infants received the rite of baptism. His ministry continued twenty-seven years, and closed March 23, 1825. Dr. McFarland was the last minister provided for by the town, his successor being supported by the society.

Rev. Asa McFarland, D. D., was born in Worcester, Mass., April 19, 1769. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1793, and was for two years tutor in the college.

He possessed a vigorous and active mind, was discriminating and sound in judgment; wise and diligent in action. His personal character and position secured to him a wide and lasting influence in the town and throughout the State. Eighteen discourses delivered on public occasions were published. In consequence of ill health he resigned his office as pastor. He, too, died among his people. By shock of paralysis, Sabbath morning, February 18, 1827, he ceased from his labors, in the 58th year of his age.

The council which dismissed Dr. McFarland, March 23, 1825, installed as pastor his successor, Rev. Nathaniel Bouton. The Sermon was by Rev. Justin Edwards, D. D., of Andover, Mass.; Installing Prayer, by Rev. Walter Harris, of Dunbarton; Charge to the Pastor, by Rev. Asa McFarland, D. D.; Fellowship of the Churches, by Rev. Abraham Burnham, of Pembroke; Charge to the People, by Rev. Daniel Dana, D. D., of Londonderry. The spirit of the Most High early rested on this ministry, and many seasons of revival blessed it. Bible classes and Sabbath schools were organized in different parts of the town, and the faithful labors of the pastor in these, and in the large assembly of the people gathered in a single place of worship, were attended with great success. In connection with the meeting of the General Association of New Hampshire, held with this church in 1831, a deep work of grace began, and more than an hundred were added to the church as the result. Large accessions were received in the years 1834, 1836, 1842 and 1843. During the forty-two years of this ministry, 772 members were added to the church, and 629 adults and infants were baptized. Three colonies were dismissed and organized into other churches, and the real increase of the church in strength and influence was very great. Churches of other denominations were also organized in town, yet this continued harmonious in action and steadfast in faith. This ministry was characterized by unity, stability and growth.

Dr. Bouton resigned his pastorate, of marked and continued success, at the forty-second anniversary of his settlement, March 23, 1867, and was dismissed by council September 12, 1867.

Rev. Nathaniel Bouton, D. D., is a native of Norwalk, Conn., and graduated at Yale College in 1821, and at Andover Theological Seminary in 1824. He has been not only a faithful minister of Christ, but a citizen of valued and acknowledged influence, during a period of the great growth and prosperity of Concord; and has borne for a generation an active part in questions of reform and public weal, both at home and abroad. A friend of learning and its institutions, he has been a Trustee of Dartmouth College since 1840. In the ecclesiastical bodies of this State, and in the benevolent organizations of the land, he has long been active and respected, and is a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and of other charitable societies. In 1856 he published the History of Concord, and has also published many sermons, historical and biographical, and of public interest. Dr. Bouton is now State Historian of New Hampshire, living among and beloved by the people to whom he has preached the Word for more than a generation.

Rev. Franklin D. Ayer, a graduate of Dartmouth College in 1856, and of Andover Theological Seminary in 1859, was installed by the council which dismissed Dr. Bouton, September 12, 1867. The Sermon was by Rev. Eden B. Foster, D. D., of Lowell, Mass.; Installing Prayer, by Rev. J. M. R. Eaton, of Hemiker; Charge to the Pastor, by Rev. P. B. Day, D. D., of Hollis; Fellowship of the Churches, by Rev. W. R. Jewett, of Fisherville; Address to the People, by Rev. W. T. Savage, D. D., of Franklin.

OTHER CHURCHES FORMED.

For many years this was the only church in the town. The steady growth of the population at length called for other churches, and this church sent out three colonies of the Congregational order.

THE WEST PARISH CHURCH.

After mature deliberation, the families resident in the west part of the town decided to organize a new church. Eighty-eight members were dismissed, by unanimous consent, from this church, and April 22, 1833, organized into the West Parish Congregational Church, and the next day Rev. Asa P. Tenney was installed its pastor.

THE SOUTH CHURCH.

Soon the interests of religion, and the increase of population in the southerly part of the village, required the establishment of a Congregational Church in that vicinity. February 1, 1837, the sixty-seven members dismissed by a vote, unanimous, and sealed with prayers and friendly wishes, were organized into the South Congregational Church. May 3d, Rev. Daniel J. Noyes was installed its pastor.

THE EAST CHURCH.

In 1842 a new house of worship was built, on the east side of Merrimack river, and a church formed of the forty-four members, dismissed from this church for that purpose.

HOUSES OF WORSHIP.

The first meeting-house in Concord was built of logs, in 1727, and served as a fort and a place of worship. It stood near West's brook, and was occupied by this church twenty-three years. The second house was that so long known as the "Old North." The main body of the house was built in 1751. In 1783 it was completed with porches and a spire, and in 1802, enlarged so as to furnish sittings for twelve hundred people, and a bell was placed in the tower. Central in its location, it was for a long time the only place of public worship in the town, and was used by this church for ninety years. It served the State also. In this house the Convention of 1778 met "to form a permanent plan of government for the State." Here, with religious services, in 1784, the new State Constitution was first introduced, and here, too, in June, 1788, the Federal Constitution was adopted, by which New Hampshire became one of the States of the Union. This was the ninth State to adopt that Constitution, the number required to render it operative; so that, by this vote, it became binding upon the United States. After another church edifice was built, this was used by the "Methodist Biblical Institute" till 1866. When it was destroyed by fire, on the night of November 28, 1870, there passed from sight the church building which had associated with it more of marked and precious history than with any other in the State.

The present house of worship, situated on the corner of Main and Washington streets, was dedicated to the worship of God November 23, 1842. In 1848 it was enlarged by an addition, giving twenty new pews. In 1869 the gallery was lowered, to make room for a new organ which was placed in the church; the inside of the house was repainted and the walls frescoed. At the rear of the church building, a chapel was erected, in 1858, and enlarged in 1868.

THE CONCORD CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH UNION.

As the church was about leaving the "Old North" as a house of worship, it was voted to invite all the churches formed from this to unite in a special religious service in that house. Says the record of it: "Religious services were attended at the Old North Church, on Thursday and Friday, October 27 and 28, 1842. On Friday the pastor delivered a discourse on the history of this church, and in the afternoon about 550 communicants of the four sister churches sat down at the table of the Lord. It was a season of tender and affectionate interest. Many wept at the thought of separation from the place where they and their fathers had worshiped." So happy was the effect of this meeting, that the next year one of like character was held in the New North Church, but on November 18, in commemoration of the organization of this church. Since that time, an annual union meeting of the Congregational churches in Concord, including that in Fisherville, has been held with the several churches in succession, and the meetings have always been precious seasons of Christian union and fellowship. At the twenty-fifth annual meeting, held with the First Church, 1867, it was voted that the union bear as its name, "The Concord Congregational Church Union."

THE SABBATH SCHOOL.*

In 1815 a Catechetical Society was formed, the members of which were to meet statedly "for mental improvement in moral and religious knowledge, and daily to read with reverence and attention some portion of the lively Oracles of God." The society was formed into classes. One of these met in the Town House, on a week day, and recited scripture lessons from "Wilber's Biblical Catechism," to Dr. McFarland. Another, formed in the West Parish, met in the different school districts in that part of the town, and recited to Dea. Abiel Rolfe.

Miss Sarah Kimball, in her annual report to the Female Charitable Society, in January, 1817, suggested that something more be done to get the children to meeting and to school, and that Sabbath schools be commenced the coming spring or summer. It is probable that a small school was gathered the coming summer, by Miss Sarah Russell, a school teacher in the village. About the same time, also, Mr. Charles Herbert, a devoted Christian, used to gather the small children of the neighborhood into the kitchen of his father's house, after the service on Sabbath afternoon, and teach them the catechism and scripture. In the spring of 1818, by advice of Dr. McFarland, Sabbath schools were organized in four different parts of the town, viz., one in the Town House, superintended by Capt. Joshua Abbott; one in District No. 9, superintended by

* The facts here stated, as most of those of the foregoing history, are from material gathered and recorded by Rev. Dr. Bouton.

Hon. Thomas Thompson, and numbering 44 scholars; in the West Parish, one numbering 47 scholars; and in the school-house on the East Side, No. 13, one of 40 scholars. The two last named had no superintendents, but were taught by two young men—I. W. Dow and Ira Rowell. The school on the East Side was continued but a few years, but that in the West Parish was united with the church there organized in 1833, and still continues. The schools in the Town House and in No. 9 were united. At the settlement of Dr. Bouton, in 1825, the Sabbath school was held in the Town House, assembling at the ringing of the first bell on Sabbath morning, and after the exercises, the scholars, attended by their teachers, walked in the order of classes to the church at the opening of morning service.

The returns made October 25, 1825, from seven schools held in as many different districts, from May to October, show 50 teachers, 334 scholars, and 88,122 verses of scripture recited. In 1826 there were twelve schools, with 70 teachers, 480 scholars, who recited 161,446 verses of scripture—five times the number in the whole Bible. This year a library was purchased and used. As most of those in the schools were young, not more than fifteen years of age, Dr. Bouton, soon after his settlement, organized five Bible classes in different sections of the town, for the youth and the older ones, and these continued, full of interest and profit, till the revival of 1831, and from January, 1826, to January, 1832, 81 were received from these classes to the church.

At the organization of each of the other churches, the schools near them were united and soon held during the interval of worship. Those of this congregation were united, and the sessions held after the morning service, and through the year. Adult classes were formed in 1838, and in 1842 the Sabbath School Association, composed of all the teachers and scholars belonging to the school, was organized, and is still continued. Its anniversary is held on the last Sabbath of December, when reports are read and addresses made by the pastor and others. The Sabbath School Concert was first held in 1851, and is observed on the second Sabbath of each month. There have been added to the church, by profession, since 1825, from the Bible class, 82; from the Sabbath school, 216. Total, 308.

COVENANT.

Acknowledging your infinite obligations to be the Lord's, you profess your desire, in sincerity of heart, and with a deep sense of your unworthiness, to lay hold on his holy and everlasting Covenant. You give up yourself to God, the Father, as your God, your Father, and your eternal portion. You give up yourself to the blessed JESUS, the Redeemer and Head of the Church, as your Prophet, Priest and King, and rely upon Him alone for salvation. You give up yourself to the HOLY SPIRIT, and rely upon Him for sanctification, guidance and comfort.

Depending on Divine Grace for assistance, you hereby solemnly bind yourself to glorify God, by a faithful discharge of the duties of sobriety, righteousness and godliness, and by a diligent observance of all his commandments and ordinances.

You particularly engage to walk with the Church of Christ, faithfully attending the public worship of God, the Sacraments of the New Testament, the Discipline of his Kingdom, and all his Sacred Institutions, and watchfully avoiding whatever is contrary to purity, peace and love, as becomes the followers of the meek and lowly Jesus.

All this you do, relying on the blood of the everlasting Covenant for the pardon of your sins, and beseeching the glorious God to prepare and strengthen you for every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through JESUS CHRIST, to whom be glory, dominion and praise for ever and ever.

Thus you promise.

[The church rising.]

On your thus professing, we receive you as a member of this Church, and admit you to the full enjoyment of all its privileges—promising, through Divine Grace assisting us, to aid you in the duties of the Christian life, by our prayers and fraternal watchfulness; expecting, in return, the same offices from you, that the purpose of this holy Covenant may be answered. The Lord make us faithful to himself and to each other.

“Thy vows are upon me, O God.” Ps. 56: 12.

RULES.

1. The officers of the Church shall be the Pastor, who shall be Moderator, Deacons chosen by the Church, a Standing Committee, Clerk and Treasurer.

2. There shall be an annual meeting of the Church, immediately after the Preparatory Lecture next preceding the first Sabbath in January, when the yearly officers of the Church shall be chosen, and when any other business may be transacted. This, together with each Preparatory Lecture, and the Weekly Prayer Meetings, shall be regular meetings of the Church.

3. The Standing Committee shall consist of the Pastor, the Deacons, and three other brethren, the latter chosen annually.

4. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper shall be administered on the first Sabbath of January, and of each alternate month, and this ordinance, together with the receiving of members, shall constitute the service of the afternoon. Members of other evangelical churches, in regular standing, shall be invited to commune with us. Preparatory Lecture on the Thursday preceding the Sacrament.

5. Candidates for admission by profession of faith, shall be examined by the Standing Committee, and, if approved, propounded two weeks before the Communion, and received by vote of the Church, and publicly giving assent to the Articles of Faith and the Covenant. Those uniting by letter from other churches, submit them to the Standing Committee, and, if approved, such persons shall be propounded and received as above.

6. Members of this Church, removing from town, and absent from its care and communion, are expected to take letters of dismission, and unite with some other church, within two years after their removal, unless satisfactory reasons to the contrary are given.

7. Members of other churches residing and communing with us, are cordially invited to unite with this Church.

8. In cases of discipline, both private and public, the rule of Christ, recorded in Matt. 18: 15-17, shall be followed, and its spirit shall govern in all the discipline of the Church.

9. Collections shall be taken for the various objects of Christian benevolence, the time and order to be decided by the Standing Committee.

10. There shall be a collection taken at every communion, for the use of the Church, except that taken on the first Sabbath in January, which shall be paid to the Treasurer of the "Ministers' and Widows' Charitable Fund."

11. The Polity of this Church is Congregational, and in cases not specified, the rule shall be Congregational usage.

"Let all things be done decently and in order." 1 Cor. 14: 40.

 Mrs. Ezekiel Dimond.

[The foregoing are all the names recorded during the ministry of Rev. Timothy Walker, though many more must have been added to the Church during his pastorate; for, of the one hundred and twenty members at the installation of Mr. Evans, few were of the above. The list is incomplete from 1736. No records are found during the ministry of Rev. Israel Evans. At his dismission the Church numbered one hundred and twenty-four, the most of whom, probably, united under Mr. Walker.]
